My darling Sweetheart:-

Am in receipt of yours of the 20th & want to say that you are not a crazy cat for writing that letter. On the other hand it simply showed me how much you love me & I'll read & reread it time & again.

Darling, I thought you would probably know with this letter whether or not I was coming home, but I must disappoint you & make you wait until to-morrow. The trustee who must sign the check with the referee, is out of town & won't be back until to-morrow & I expect I'll get my money then. The referee wouldn't tell me how much I'll get because, as he says, the ~~trustee~~ trustee must be there when he decides. So you see my position.

My nerves are all mustang on account of this case, & I hope you will not be angry over this short letter, but I feel so, I just simply can't write more, so shall close with all my love & heaps & heaps of kisses,

Your ever loving

Joe
